January saw the performances of Wymondham Young Farmers annual pantomime. This years pantomime was Babes in the Wood. A modern reworking of the Griston tale featuring the lovable characters of Robin Hood (Or not so lovable in the case of the Sheriff of Nottingham.) and the indigenous species to Britain of the lesser known gyrating panda!

The pantomime had been in production since October under the direction of producers Shaun "Chick" Childerhouse and Justin Moore.

The stars on stage included Hannah Kelly as Robin Hood, Carrie Smith as the Sheriff of Nottingham, Howard Warnes as Dippy; I mean Dangerous; Dave, Leah Collett as Maid Marian Paul Mickleborough as Friar

Justin Moore and Carrie Smith

Tuck and Richard Palmer as the Dame! Fresh talent was seen from Kingsley White and Jack Blezard as Block and Tackle with the babes being played by Shemine Forde and Kasha Smith.

The stars off stage included Charles Fielder as stage manager, Jane Knights as prompt and makeup and costumes by Jane Howard and Rachael Shreeve.

The pantomime was in aid of the cancer charity the Anthony Nolan Trust.

Wymondham Young Farmers out and about in the community...

In December Wymondham members Hannah Kelly, Justin Moore, Charles Saffell, Paul Mickleborough, Leah Collett, Carrie Smith (and mum) and Robert Giddings took part in the Bunwell Santa fun run.

The club heard of the event thanks to Hannah Kelly.
